

Workshop on Regional and Urban Economics, February 1–2, 2024

Invitation

Workshop organized by the Center for Regional Economic Development (CRED) and the Department of Economics at the University of Bern

The workshop will bring together leading scholars and talented young researchers from regional and urban economics. We welcome empirical and theoretical contributions from all regional and urban economic areas. Researchers working on the following topics are especially encouraged to apply: spatial policies, regional development, digitalization, and consumption amenities.

Keynote Speaker: Treb Allen (Dartmouth College)

Schedule:

- Start on Thursday, February 1st, 2024, at 10 am
- End of the scientific program on Friday, February 2nd, 2024, at 5 pm
- Optional mountain excursion in the Bernese Alps on Saturday, February 3rd

The program will include about 15 papers. CRED will provide hotel accommodation, local transportation costs, and meals; participants will cover their travel costs. Programs of our previous workshops can be found on our website: 2015, 2022, and 2023.

Organizers: Maximilian v. Ehrlich, Marcel Henkel, and Elisabeth Preyer

Venue: [\[Haus der Universität\]](#)

Please send your paper or extended abstract before November 15th, 2023, to marcel.henkel@unibe.ch.

We are looking forward to stimulating discussions and a fruitful exchange of ideas.
