

Workshop on Regional and Urban Economics, February 24–25, 2022

Invitation

Workshop organized by the Center for Regional Economic Development (CRED) and the Department of Economics at the University of Bern

The workshop will bring together leading scholars and talented young researchers from regional and urban economics. We welcome both empirical and theoretical contributions from all areas of regional and urban economics. Researchers working on the following topics are especially encouraged to apply: regional economic growth and development, digitalization, migration, place-based policies, and climate change.

Keynote Speakers: Costas Arkolakis (Yale University), Diego Puga (CEMFI)

Schedule:

- Start on Thursday, February 24th, 2022, 10 am
- End of scientific program on Friday, February 25th, 2022, 5 pm
- Optional mountain excursion in the Bernese Alps on Saturday, February 26th

The program will include about 15 papers. CRED will provide hotel accommodation, local transportation costs, and meals; participants will cover their travel costs. We will move to an online event if necessary due to the pandemic.

Organizers: Maximilian v. Ehrlich, Marcel Henkel, Pierre Magontier

Venue: Haus der Universität, Schösslistrasse 5, 3008 Bern, Switzerland, www.hausderuniversitaet.ch

Please send your paper or extended abstract before October 15, 2021 to: marcel.henkel@cred.unibe.ch.

We are looking forward to stimulating discussions and a fruitful exchange of ideas.
